

Elastomers*Fibers*Miscellaneous Applications

15.33 The backbone chain of most polymers consists of carbon atoms that are linked together. For the silicone polymers, this backbone chain is composed of silicon and oxygen atoms that alternate positions.