

American University of Beirut
Department of Political Studies and Public Administration
Final Examination
Spring 1996

Course Number: PSPA 213
Course title: Survey of International Relations
Prof.: M. Nehme

Treat only one of the following questions

1. In their quest for international and regional stability, scholars have studied on the one hand the aspects and role of force, and on the other hand, causes of cooperation in enhancing and/or diminishing security. Special attention was given to arms races, deterrence, arms control, and peaceful relations among the industrialized countries.

Assess how scholars approached these issues of stability, security and war. Be brief and provide examples.

2. Assess the role of the individual and public opinion on the one hand, and the dimension of Domestic constraints on the other, in shaping up foreign policies and decision making process.

Good Luck

