I and the Other (le Je et l'Autre)

The category of the Other is as primordial as consciousness itself.

The Other is part of me and my self – fulfillment – identity .s

The Other is like a mirror in which I see myself; with whom I establish my basic relationships in life; who attracts me and /or repels me.

Study the polarity if I & the Other in the novels we have read. Take examples from our readings, remain close to those readings & see how this polarity is presented by our twentieth century authors.
