"Seasons of Migration to the North", by Tayyeb Saleh is a novel rich with oppositions, tensions, conflicts, and confrontations, yet they resolve in a reconciled atmosphere of peaceful tolerance.

In the light of the readings we shared in CS 206, study and analyse these confrontations at the three levels of:

- The individual (the "I" and "others", woman and man etc...)
- The environment (society and nature)
- The ethos- i.e. values, culture, fate, destiny, freedom, reason, emotions etc...

You can arrange your essay the way you want, provided it covers as many oppositions and as many trends of thoughts as needed for a good analysis.

It would be advisable to write a plan for your essay, which you could announce at the beginning.

Good Luck!
