FEMINIST THEORY

FINAL EXAMINATION: WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1997
AT 2:00 P.M. IN 212 NICELY
TIME: 2 1/2 HOURS

DR. LAMIA R. SHEHADEH

I. Discuss at length two of the following:

1. "To the degree that a person is deprived of power over his or her own body, that person is deprived of his or her humanity."
  - (a) Explain quotation and identify the problem.
  - (b) How would the different feminist theories you studied this semester deal with this problem.
  - (c) What is your own opinion?
2. "No slave is a slave to the same lengths, and in so full a sense of the word, as a wife is."
  - (a) Explain what John Stuart Mill means by this statement.
  - (b) How would the different feminist theories you studied this semester confirm or deny this statement?
  - (c) What is your own opinion?
3. How do the three feminist theories you studied this semester treat the slogan "Biology is destiny"? What is your own opinion?
4. "Some have told me that they do not think of themselves as feminists, that they are a generation of individualists who do not align themselves with a group cause, particularly one which represents battles they believe have been largely won."
  - (a) Explain quotation.
  - (b) If you were a feminist armed with the theories you have studied this semester, what would you say to her and how would you persuade her to change her mind?
  - (c) Do you agree with her? Why?

II. Answer both questions:

1. How has this course affected you?
2. Are there any recommendations or suggestions you would like to make?
